

Cardiac Rehabilitation Nursing

Book by

Cardiac rehabilitation programmes are intended to enhance the effect of acute treatment actions and to prevent risk factors, thus leading to an improvement in Introduction. Acute cardiac events such as myocardial infarction, heart failure, and intracoronary artery procedures affect over two million Cardiac rehabilitation programmes are intended to enhance the effect of acute treatment actions and to prevent risk factors, thus leading to an improvement in tAuthors Jennifer Wingham, RGN, BNS, is research nurse Catherine Proctor, RGN, is cardiac rehabilitation liaison nurse both at Royal Cornwall Hospital, Truro Older adults after hospitalization for a cardiac event are frequently discharged to a skilled nursing facility (SNF) for post-acute care however, cardiac Eur J Cardiovasc Nurs. 2002 Feb 1(1):15-8. The role of the nurse in cardiac rehabilitation programmes. Fridlund B(1). Author information: (1)School of Social There is little evidence, however, specific to the role of the nurse practitioner in outpatient cardiac rehabilitation (CR). In an effort to explore the potential value of J Clin Nurs. 2000 May 9(3):411-9. Education and training towards competency for cardiac rehabilitation nurses in the United Kingdom. Stokes HC(1). Published by Elsevier Science B.V. All rights reserved. PII: S1474-5151Z01.00017-2. Special paper. The role of the nurse in cardiac rehabilitation programmes. Participation in cardiac rehabilitation depends on a number of factors, including age, sex and socioeconomic group, and patients beliefs about such Cardiac Rehabilitation. Nurse Specialist Service. For patients registered with GPs in the Leeds area. If you need help for minor accidents or unexpected. Until the recent government guidelines were produced, cardiac rehabilitation was a little-known specialism that was implemented largely by nursing staff and Cardiac rehabilitation nursing is unlike any other field of nursing. This subspecialty of cardiac nursing is one of the few areas in the entire field Monaldi Arch Chest Dis. 2011 Dec 76(4):168-74. [Third phase of cardiac rehabilitation: a nurse-based home-control model]. [Article in Italian]. Albertini S(1) There is a need to tackle issues around access and uptake for cardiac rehabilitation services. Cardiac rehabilitation aids recovery, so the reasons why people do and do not attend should be understood. A study found that such services should be more